A Note from our Sales Director

Welcome to the Bryson Main Contractor Core Catalogue

In construction, every second counts. Whether you're managing tight deadlines, keeping your teams performing, or ensuring safety on site - you need reliable, high-quality products and fast, dedicated service that work as smart as you do. Our mission is to make life easier for construction and fit-out people like you, and that's exactly what Bryson delivers with our Main Contractor Core Catalogue.

How our Core Catalogue will benefit you?

Higher stocks of fewer key products means an increase in Delivery In Full On Time (DIFOT). This creates cost savings for you with fewer deliveries to site and less backorders to manage and chase. Plus, you save on keeping your project on track with fewer operational delays due to our next day delivery nationwide on core products. An increased DIFOT also means your deliveries are consolidated which reduces your carbon footprint. A focus on core products creates additional operational capacity for Bryson to continue and grow our service offering. This means we can put more energy into delivering innovations that will benefit you. Such as our market-leading bespoke ordering platform BrysonBase®, designed to save you time ordering and increase your ordering efficiency and compliance.

Our Values drive everything we do:

Fast – We strive to be the fastest in everything we do.

Humble – Always listening and improving and creating an industry-leading team culture.

Hungry – Finding better ways to support you.

Smart – Building a dynamic, trusting, collaborative team of thinkers.

Gloves

A Guide To Glove Markings

The EN ISO 13997 cut test is a standardised method used to determine the resistance of materials to cutting and penetration by sharp objects. This test was specifically created for testing safety gloves that have a blunting effect on blades. Sample fabric that is being tested for cut resistance using the 'Coupe Blade Cut Test', which blunts the blade during the test, will be marked with an 'X' and tested using the EN ISO test. This ensures the degree of protection stated for the glove is as accurate as possible.
